

Choosing how to deliver a reform program can be a daunting task, especially when trying to decide what to prioritise when. All too often we try to do too much at once. So how do you know what to do when, and how to plan for success? Our decision checker provides a quick way for reform architects and leaders to sense check their decisions.

all you need is:

- a rough concept of the initiative you are thinking about
- an early plan for how you might deliver the initiative
- your own knowledge of the current context, and
- an idea of the level of return you expect from the initiative.

Then use our decision checker to get an independent opinion on how you might proceed with that initiative. Or as a thought starter in your planning process.

and feel free to give us any feedback at info@morethanideas.com.au on how it went for you.

decision checker – are you setting up for success?

